Art Unit: 2834

Claims 1, 3-5, 7 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 USC 103 as unpatentable over the Prior Art (Applicants fig. 4) (Referenced by Applicant as AAPA) in view of Koshino or Japan (390).

The 'prior art' (applicants fig. 4) teaches the specific SAW configurations but the jumper wires cross the electrodes and/or reflector elements. However, Japan (390) (Fig. 7) and Koshino (Figs. 6b, 10, 14, 16-18, 20, 21, 23 & 25) teach connection of multiple SAWS to the terminal pads via jumper wires that are specifically routed so as not to cross over any electrode or reflector fingers. Such constructions would eliminate possible unwanted capacitive coupling and possible short-circuiting during manufacturing.

Regarding applicants remarks it is noted that for references to be motivations combinable the need not be the same as taught by applicant. The advantages purported by the examiner (reduction of short circuits etc.) are not related to ripple elimination or any other of applicants teaching, thus the combination is not based on hindsight or applicants teachings. Further, since AAPA (Fig. 4) is moot regarding any advantage for putting jumper wires over the transducer structures, the teaching is neutral" and does not specifically teach an from not crossing transducer structures with jumper wires.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 2834

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
